Welcome to the East Riding Voluntary and Community Sector Safeguarding Information Pack that effectively provides you with information that will support you as a lead champion for your organisation, those who work with you and your organisation as a whole. It is down to the organisation to ensure safeguarding principles make up business as usual.

We would ask that the starting point is to ensure that all those representing your organisation and working with people and individuals understand and can recognise safeguarding concerns, what it means and how to access help locally if required.

We require you as an organisation representing the community inclusive of children, adults and vulnerable adults to ensure the standards on the next page.

OVERVIEW OF STANDARDS

OVERVIEW OF STANDARDS

The first 4 standards include essential safeguarding areas:

Safer staff and volunteers

Child protection and protecting young adults at risk

Preventing and responding to bullying

Avoiding accidents and running safe activities and events

We ask that you reflect on the standards and ensure that you are complying across all areas that are appropriate to your organisation and the people you represent and support within the community.

Organisations providing a more specialised service to vulnerable children, young people or adults with care and support needs may also want to consider the last 2 standards:

- recording and storing information
- sharing information and working with other agencies

We would like you to feel supported to ensure you are following and meeting the recommend standards and we will offer support in the following ways
